BBC bosses are planning to offer Gary Lineker a pay rise to keep him as host of Match of the Day.

They are terrified he will walk after the row over his political tweets, so will cough up a 25 percent wage boost to keep him from quitting the Saturday night footie highlights show.

World Cup gets expanded with 40 more games

FIFA is set to approve an expansion of the men's World Cup, with 40 more matches from the 2026 tournament in North America.

The decision to grow from 64 to 104 games, rather than the 80 originally planned in 2026, is due at a meeting of the governing body's ruling council in Kigali, Rwanda.

Adding matches helps FIFA chase its target of more than $9 billion in revenue, but it also solves format issues for the event being co-hosted by the United States, Canada and Mexico.

FIFA had already agreed to enlarge the tournament from 32 to 48 teams.

Rather than having 16 groups each with three teams, FIFA will have 12 groups each with four countries, sources say.

The top two teams will advance to a round of 32 with the eight best third-placed sides.

It means teams reaching the final will now have to play eight matches, rather than the seven played by Qatar 2022 finalists Argentina and France.

The final in the US will be on July 19, 2026.

'Fosbury Flop' star dies at 76

OLYMPIC champion Dick Fosbury, who revolutionised the high jump with the "Fosbury Flop", has died at the age of 76.

He died peacefully in his sleep after a "brief recurrence of lymphoma", his agent said.

Fosbury, who won gold at the Mexico Olympics in 1968, developed a new technique that involved going backwards over the bar instead of forwards.

He was able to create the new style after rubber landing practice mats became more common in the 1960s.

Fosbury, who was 6ft 4ins, leapt at an angle and went over on his back to set an Olympic record of 2.24m to take the title and change the sport forever.

1,500 COPPERS ARE ACCUSED OF VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN

MORE than 1,500 police officers and personnel have faced accusations about their behaviour towards women and girls in a six-month period.

Campaigners said perpetrators were "getting away" with violence against women and girls despite police chiefs' promises to remove "potential predators" from the ranks.

Forces

New figures show 1,539 police and staff at forces in England and Wales had answered allegations relating to violence against women and girls between October 2021 and March last year.

The National Police Chiefs' Council has been scrutinising the way that forces investigate such crimes.

Deputy Chief Constable Maggie Blyth, who is the national police spokeswoman on the subject, said police leaders had called on the Home Office to tighten regulations.

They include barring anyone convicted or cautioned for such offences from policing, and re-vetting anyone accused of them.

She said: "The vast majority of officers and staff are professional and committed to addressing the crimes.

"But it is shocking to hear that among us we have potential predators in policing."

Figures show that 653 conduct cases against 672 people were recorded in England and Wales between October 2021 and March 2022.

Investigations

The allegations came to light through internal reporting and investigations. The 167 cases that were resolved led to 13 officers and staff being sacked.

The NPCC said the cases involved 195 separate allegations of which 70 per cent resulted in no further action.

Pop nonce Glitter 'will die in jail'

DISGRACED pop star Gary Glitter will likely die in jail after being recalled to prison, the former head of Scotland Yard's Paedophile Unit has said.

Mike Hames said Glitter, real name Paul Gadd, would always represent a danger to children and that a return to custody was appropriate.

The Probation Service said this week that Glitter was being recalled to prison following a breach of his licence conditions. Details of the breach were not given, but it was reported he was caught trying to access the dark web.

Mr Hames said: "As far as Gadd is concerned, he is so dangerous and so fixated on his offending behaviour that he'll never stop - he's gone too far."

"He's arrogant, he's opinionated, he's someone who's always going to be a danger to children, quite frankly."

Glitter, 78, had been released in February, halfway through his 16-year prison sentence for sexually abusing three schoolgirls. The offences came to light nearly 40 years after they occurred when Glitter became the first person to be arrested under Operation Yewtree.

Job vacancies fall again in UK

JOB vacancies in the UK have fallen for the eighth time in a row as companies blamed economic pressures for holding back on hiring new staff.

Yesterday's official figures came ahead of today's Budget when the Chancellor is expected to set out plans to encourage people back to work.

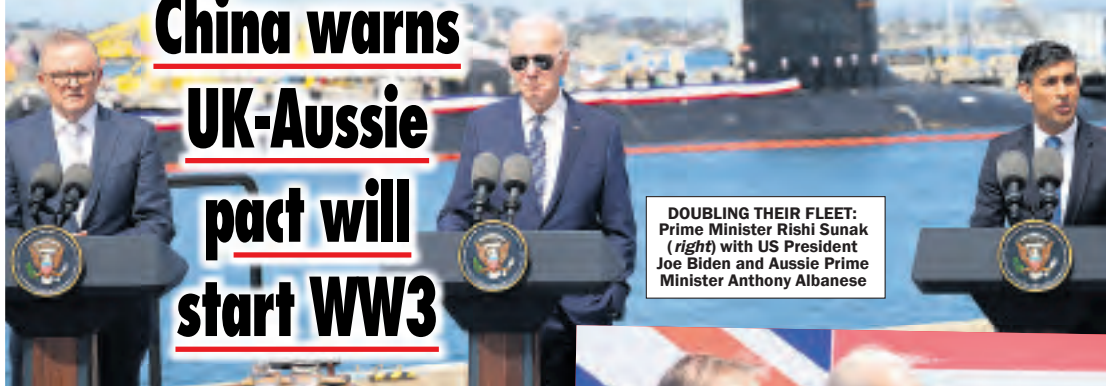

The number of jobs on offer between December and February fell by 51,000 compared with the three months before.

Despite the drop, the number of job vacancies remains high at 1.1m.

There are also 328,000 more vacancies compared to the pre-COVID period of January to March 2020.

China warns UK-Aussie pact will start WW3

DOUBLING THEIR FLEET: Prime Minister Rishi Sunak (right) with US President Joe Biden and Aussie Prime Minister Anthony Albanese

COMMUNIST China has issued a chilling World War 3 warning to the West over a deal between the UK, the US and Oz to build nuclear submarines.

It has warned the Aukus group of treading a "path of error and danger" with their deal to build a fleet of attack submarines.

Britain is preparing to double its fleet after Prime Minister Rishi Sunak warned of a "difficult and dangerous decade" ahead.

The three nations have agreed to build a "world-leading" generation of nuclear-powered submarines - SSN-Aukus - in a 20-year defence partnership designed to counter nations becoming increasingly hostile.

They will be built in Britain and Australia using technology from the US.

By COLIN HURST

Beijing said it would stoke an arms race in the Asia-Pacific and posed "severe nuclear proliferation risks".

Wang Wenbin, the Chinese foreign ministry spokesman, said: "The latest joint statement from the US, UK and Australia demonstrates that the three countries, for the sake of their own geopolitical interests, completely disregard the concerns of the international communities and are walking further and further down the path of error and danger."

"China has stressed many times the so-called trilateral security partnership among the US, the UK and Australia to promote co-operation on nuclear submarines and other cutting-edge military technologies is a typical case of the Cold War mentality.

"That would only stimulate arms races, undermine the world nuclear non-proliferation system and damage the regional peace and stability."

"What should be stressed is that the Asia-Pacific region is the most vital, fastest-growing region in the world, and that should be cherished."

Sergey Lavrov, the Russian foreign minister, accused the West of fomenting "years of confrontation" in the region.

"The Anglo-Saxon world, with the creation of structures like Aukus and with the advancement of NATO military infrastructures into Asia, is making a serious bet on many years of confrontation" he said.

FALSE RAPE CLAIM GIRL JAILED

A WOMAN who falsely claimed she was raped and trafficked by an Asian grooming gang has been jailed for eight-and-a-half years.

Eleanor Williams (left) sparked protests in her Cumbrian home town of Barrow after posting photos on social media of injuries she said were from beatings.

But Preston Crown Court heard that she inflicted the wounds herself using a hammer.

Williams, 22, was found guilty of perverting the course of justice.

A two-day sentencing hearing was told three men Williams falsely accused tried to take their own lives after being targeted and suffering "hell on earth".

Judge Robert Altham said Williams experienced difficulties since childhood and had a history of self-harm.

However, he said her allegations were of the utmost severity and it was troubling there had been "no significant sign of remorse" and "no explanation why the defendant would commit these offences".

The judge added: "She's gone to extraordinary lengths to create false accusations - including causing herself significant injury."

THREESOME PERV MADE ME QUIT HOLLYWOOD

INDECENT PROPOSAL:
Grace (right)

as Chrissy

STRANGER Things beauty Grace Van Dien has quit Hollywood after being asked for a THREESOME by a randy producer.

Grace, 26, who played cheerleader Chrissy in Season 4 of the hit Netflix series, revealed during a Twitch livestream she is taking a break from acting due to bad experiences – including one unnamed producer who propositioned her for group sex.

She said: "One of the last movies I did, a producer asked me to like... he hired a girl that he was sleeping with and then he had her ask me to have a threesome with them."

"I didn't do it and I cried and I was so upset."

Grace admitted these types of experiences are what led her to streaming projects, adding: "People are like, 'How's streaming better for your mental health?' I get to stay inside my home and play video games and I don't have my boss asking me to have sex with him. That's how this is better for my mental health."

Looking back, the LA native said she's glad she took action.

Grace said: "But I handled it the right way. I told my management. My castmate, she was there with me and was like, 'Did I just hear that correctly?' And I was like, 'Yeah.'"

The star, who has been in films including What Comes Around, V for Vengeance and Julius Caesar Live!, added: "I've actually turned down, in the last two-and-a-half weeks, four movies. Some people are upset with me for turning down projects, but the last few movie projects I've worked on, I didn't have the best experiences."

GATOR POOL SHOCK

A WOMAN got the shock of her life when she found an 11ft alligator enjoying a morning swim in her pool.

Lynn Tosi, of Stone Island, Florida, went to let her dog out, only to spot the giant reptile cooling off in her swimming pool after it broke through an enclosure.

She said: "It was definitely an unexpected surprise!"

Alligators are a common sight in the area, and locals know to keep their distance from lakes in the area which are "teeming" with the beasts.

Shocked Lynn and her husband called officials from the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, who came and yanked the reptile out of the pool and hauled it away.

Because it was deemed to be a nuisance alligator, it was destroyed with dynamite.

Bridge man's death mystery for 25 years

THE public have been asked to help identify a man whose body was found more than 25 years ago.

The man may have been living rough before he fell off the Clifton Suspension Bridge in Bristol, missing persons' charity Locate International said.

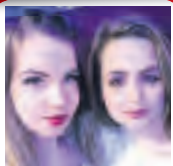

His body was found on the bank of the River Avon in Somerset in May 1996 but, despite several public appeals, he has never been identified.

The man was of medium build and thought to be aged between 25 and 35, around 6ft tall, with blue eyes and brown collar-length hair.

The charity is appealing for anyone with information about the man's possible identity to come forward and has released a new image of him (above).

Among his possessions was a penny whistle and a blank Barclays giro slip.

AS SCI-FI FLICK BAGS BEST FILM OSCAR, THE STARS STRIP... Everything Everywhere All at Once

JAMIE LEE CURTIS

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

IT'S officially the best film of the year, but Everything, Everywhere All at Once does lack one thing – bare boobs!

Because the winner of this year's Best Film Oscar at the weekend is very much a knockers-free zone.

Fear not though, because if you were wondering what the stars of the hit flick look like with no tops on, we have got you covered...

Jamie Lee Curtis, who plays Deirdre Beaubeirdre in the new film, has an amazing top rack which she kindly revealed in 1983 classic Trading Places.

Elsewhere, Tallie Medel – who stars as Becky Sregor – whipped her kit off in the 2013 movie The Unspeakeable Act.

And Jenny Slate, who appears as Jenny the Dog Mum, got fully naked in the 2016 film My Blind Brother.

A fan of the new hit movie said: "Yes, it's acclaimed by both the critics and audiences alike – and landed the Best Film gong – but I always think you should see a bit of teat in a film."

"Especially given the cost of going to the cinema these days. Dear Lord!"

Fury at Emily Rata's Oscar dress

MODEL and actress Emily Ratajkowski caused outrage at the Oscars by accidentally flashing her outer nip.

The beauty's sheer dress slipped out of place and revealed much of her right nipple prompting prudes and prodnoses to kick off.

One said: "This is not about Emily Ratajkowski's breasts. These awards are a tribute to all the hard work actors and actresses put in and she has undermined all of that."

Another added: "Typical me, me, me attitude. No matter how lovely those nips of hers are, Em should have spared a thought for other people at the Academy Awards."

Online abuser first fan to get all-match ban

A MAN who racially abused Brentford's Ivan Toney on social media has become the first person to be banned from every English football stadium under the Police, Crime, Sentencing and Courts Act.

Antonio Neill, 24, sent the message via Toney's Instagram account in October, with the player (above) sharing it publicly, prompting a police probe.

Neill, of North Shields, pleaded guilty before magistrates in Newcastle on January 25 to sending an offensive message.

This week he received a four-month sentence, suspended for two years, and a three-year ban from attending football matches in England.

The ban extended to clubs in the Premier League, Championship, Leagues One and Two and the National League, as well as to England home internationals, qualifying matches and tournaments played overseas.

He's the first person to receive such a sentence under the new legislation introduced last year, which brought in new powers for courts to ban offenders who engage in abuse and commit hate crimes online.

Liverpool hike ticket prices

LIVERPOOL FC are to raise ticket prices for the first time in nine years – keeping increases to just two percent.

Junior and local general sale tickets will remain at £9 per ticket but the majority of general admissions will see a small rise, although adding no more than £17 to the price of a season ticket.

The club says the move is due to rising costs, a factor which a fortnight ago was attributed to them only posting a small annual pre-tax profit of £7.5m.

Consultation over the potential impact of the price rises on fans was held with the LFC Supporters Board, who opposed the move.

Next season will see the opening of the new Anfield Road Stand, boosting capacity by 7,000 to 61,000.

NOW LINEKER IS GETTING A PAY RISE

Fury at plans to hand over MORE cash to controversial MotD star

LIFE IS TWEET: Gary Lineker

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

SOCIAL media campaigner and occasional Match of the Day host Gary Lineker is set to get a whacking pay rise following him calling the UK's elected Government Nazis.

The former footballer caused a huge furore at the BBC when he was taken off presenting duties at the weekend as a punishment for tweeting about politics.

BBC rules state all employees must remain neutral, but Lineker kicked off about new Government plans to ban asylum seekers.

Most of the Beeb's sports staff staged a boycott in support of Lineker, causing mayhem in the schedules.

Reinstated

Lineker, 62, has now been reinstated and will be back on the box this weekend.

But behind the scenes BBC bosses are terrified he will walk away from the show following the controversy.

They are terrified ratings will take a huge nosedive if he no longer hosts the channel's highlights package.

So they have been working on offering him a new contract, that allows him to tweet about politics AND gives him a rise on the £1.3million he is paid by the Beeb.

A source said: "He has them over a barrel now and can do no wrong. "The powers that be know if Gary walks that would be a huge own goal for the corporation. "So they are putting together a new package that will give him the freedom he wants and boost his pay packet."

BEEB BOSS: Tim Davie

But news of the plan has leaked and fellow BBC employees are all kicking off.

One said: "He is being rewarded for breaking the rules!"

"That's bollocks. I got told off for a tweet about food banks and Lineker gets more money?"

"This will not go down well, I tell you."

Joe: my life is ruined by Netflix show

BIG Cat oddball Joe Exotic says the TV show that made him famous has ruined his life.

Asked if he regretted participating in the hit Netflix documentary series Tiger King, the 60-year-old said from his Texas prison cell: "Did it ruin my life? Absolutely."

"I was filming a little tiger show in 2016 and 2017, then Netflix and Tiger King director Eric Goode and all of them turned it into this conspiracy that I killed Carole Baskin to make a show."

Exotic shot to worldwide fame from the 2020 docu-series, which showcased his work and personal life as he looked after big cats at his G.W. Zoo in Wynnewood, Oklahoma.

Exotic was arrested in September 2018, during filming, and accused of trying to hire two men to murder fellow big cat collector Baskin, who labelled Joe an animal abuser.

Prosecutors said he offered £8,000 to an undercover FBI agent in a 2017 meeting to perform the killing.

Phone repairer stole nude pics

A PHONE technician has been arrested after he allegedly sent a female customer's nude images to his own mobile phone when he was supposed to be repairing hers.

The 18-year-old victim, whose identity is withheld, was offered around £500 by the store owner to keep quiet, it later emerged.

It happened when the teenager went to the Gadget Cure Cell Phone Repair shop in Cleveland to get her phone screen repaired.

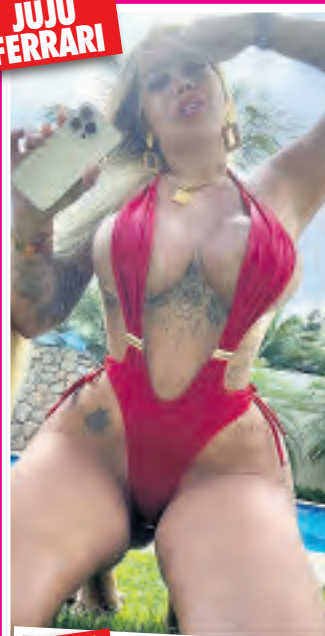

She gave her password to technician Jonathan Petrushansky, 26, and went shopping while the device was repaired.

Soon after, her Apple watch - which was linked to her phone - notified her that numerous photos and videos had been sent to an unknown number.

Officials in Cleveland, Texas State, said that Petrushansky forwarded 65 nude photos and five explicit videos to himself.

AN award-winning teacher has been arrested and charged with sexually abusing a student at the school where she taught.

Jacqueline Ma, who taught sixth grade at Lincoln Acres Elementary School in San Diego, California, was charged with six counts of sexual misconduct, including three for oral copulation with a student, and three for lewd and lascivious acts with a pupil.

The 34-year-old was one of five San Diego teachers selected as 'Teachers of the Year' in 2022.

According to her LinkedIn page, she worked at the school since 2013.

It is believed there was only one victim of Ma's antics. Police said the student no longer attended the school where Ma taught, and it remains unclear how the abuse came to light.

The San Diego Sheriff's Department said that Ma was arrested out of view of students.

"Both law enforcement and our site staff collaborated to ensure that student learning and the campus climate were not interrupted," the department said in statement.

Investigation

"We can confirm that the student no longer attends our school, and we assure you that we will do everything we can to support the investigation."

Ma was arrested "on the allegation of having a physically inappropriate relationship with a former student."

Ma was sent to the Las Colinas Detention and Reentry Facility after her arrest.

Drunk flasher in neighbour threat

A MAN who exposed his penis to neighbours during a disturbance, was given a six-month suspended jail sentence.

Nerijus Karazinas, 43, of Lurgan, Co Armagh, admitted charges of intentionally exposing his genitals, making a threat to kill a man, and disorderly behaviour in Coalisland on July 3 last year.

Police received reports of a disturbance at a house at around 9pm and approached Karazinas, who was in the garden at the rear of the property.

Neighbours had asked him to be quiet and he'd exposed his penis, and with a knife in his hand shouted: "Fk you, Irish bastards, I'm from Lithuania and I'll kill you."

A defence lawyer said Karazinas had taken too much alcohol and could not remember the incident.

THIS is the week where a part of Gloucestershire turns Irish as thousands flock from the Emerald Isle to the Cheltenham Festival.

As the Festival usually coincides with St Patrick's Day – which this year falls on Friday – it's one of the biggest dates on the Irish drinking calendar.

The Festival kicked off yesterday and culminates with the spectacular Gold Cup at the end of four booze-filled days.

In National Hunt circles, Cheltenham is even more prestigious than the Grand National meeting at Aintree.

MODEL and influencer Blac Chyna has quit OnlyFans, after raking in a reported £220m in 2021 by sharing lusty snaps of herself online.

The 34-year-old said: "I don't do OnlyFans any more – I'm just changing everything about me."

"It's a dead end. All that stuff is a dead end, and I know that I'm worth way more than that."

"At a certain age, they see and gravitate to everything," she said of her kids before noting her many legal woes also contributed to her exit from OnlyFans.

However, not to disparage the site or those who are earning an honest living on the platform, the social media siren said: "Shout out to the people that do still have their OnlyFans and stuff like that."

"Get your money," she advised, "don't let the money make you."

A MAN who was arrested after he was seen walking down the street naked claimed that he is from a "different Earth".

A member of the public called the police to report a white male walking past the shop where he worked, naked and in full view of the public.

When cops arrived at the scene, they approached the naked man, who said he didn't know where he'd left his clothes, and also refused to give his name or date of birth.

He was then brought to the Palm Beach, Florida, Police Department for questioning where he claimed that he did not possess a social security number or an ID card from any state.

He was later identified as Jason Smith, 44, from West Palm Beach.

Smith has since been charged with indecent exposure, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

KILLER WANTED TO EAT HIS VICTIM

A MURDERER is attempting to dodge a life prison sentence – by claiming he's a CANNIBAL!

Defence lawyers argue Francis Wolke, found guilty of first-degree murder last week in the 2018 killing of Kathy Hughes Anderson, was insane and believed he had to commit cannibalism to join the "1%" and stay young forever.

The claim arose in court proceedings at Redwood City, California, to determine whether Wolke was sane during the 2018 slaying, following a guilty verdict by a jury on March 2.

Defence attorney Connie O'Brien argued that Wolke was suffering from psychosis at the time of the murder and that he was unable to understand his behaviour as morally wrong.

According to O'Brien, Wolke believed "he had to murder someone and potentially consume parts of the body to become a 'protein harvester' and join the 1%".

According to forensic psychiatrist Dr George Wilkinson, whenever asked if he "ate flesh or consumed blood," Wolke would quickly state that he didn't recall, when he had been openly conversing with Wilkinson immediately before.

Wolke believed that if he moved to California from Cincinnati, where he grew up, he would become extremely wealthy and told his family that he had connections to important people in California.

The "1%" Wolke was intent on joining refers to the super-rich elite, whom Wolke believed would protect him because they were also committing acts of murder and cannibalism.

When asked about what he would do with such wealth, Wolke said that he would "take drugs and play video games," according to Wilkinson.

Hallucinations

Wolke was also asked what three things he could wish for if he had anything. Wolke wished for "teletransport" to go to Japan, the ability to duplicate anything from anywhere and a new body with a different nose and no injuries.

During his trial, O'Brien said that Wolke had auditory hallucinations several times on the bus ride from Cincinnati to California telling him that he had to commit sins to join the 1%, ultimately resulting in Wolke murdering Hughes Anderson with this intent.

The sanity hearing continues.

Plane crazy taking evacuation selfies

HALFWIT passengers stopped to take selfies as they were evacuated from a plane that was forced into an emergency landing.

The flight was en route from Havana to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, when its nose and one of its engines hit birds.

The plane began to fill with smoke, and the flight was forced to turn around, back to Cuba.

Luckily, none of its 147 passengers and six crew members were injured.

But several passengers failed to follow standard evacuation rules, as footage of the landing aftermath showed people posing for selfies on a wing and clutching their luggage as they went down the emergency slide.

DAD SHOTS AT NAKED LODGER

A MAN is facing multiple charges after he opened fire on a lodger who went naked into his teenage daughter's room.

Dayne Victor Miller, 44 (below), was arrested at his home after he called police and admitted shooting at his two married lodgers through a closed bedroom door, cops in Cape Coral, Florida, said in a statement.

Drinking

The victim later told police he accidentally got into bed in Miller's daughter's room after drinking excessively.

The straying lodger's wife shouted they were in the wrong room after Miller's daughter alerted her dad there was a naked man in her room.

The victims said Miller shouted: "I'll kill you!" before firing his handgun three or four times into the floor just outside the couple's closed bedroom door.

Miller has been charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

Irwin dad's warning to croc hunters

CONSERVATIONIST Bob Irwin has warned of the "blatant stupidity" of filming encounters with crocodiles for social media likes, as he and other wildlife advocates call for harsh penalties for anyone deliberately interacting with the reptiles.

The 83-year-old dad of the late 'Crocodile Hunter' Steve Irwin (above) is worried recent vids posted online risk more copycat acts if authorities don't clamp down on it soon.

It comes just two weeks after a man was attacked by a 13ft croc in the northernmost part of Queensland, and it comes in the wake of a successful prosecution against another social media influencer who filmed himself interacting with crocodiles.

Bob said of the first croc attack survivor: "Now he's got a scar and a story to tell, and that story is attracting worldwide attention."

#MY SEX FANTASY

'Can you help me to join the mile high club?'

...WITH DOROTHY BLACK, 34DD, FROM ABERDEEN

I FANTASISE A LOT about having sex in a public place. It's such a thrill knowing you could get caught.

Once got naughty in a lift in Dublin, which was hot. I'd gone on a girly weekend, met a gorgeous Irish guy and we were heading to my hotel room but we were so horny we got intimate before we made it there.

I gave him a blowjob and he took me doggy style. It was fast and furious. Luckily no-one pressed the button!

I also love shagging on balconies on holiday. I nearly got kicked out of one hotel in Tenerife, someone must have seen us and reported us!

Sex in the sea is another fave. You can get away with it if you do it slowly, you can just look like you're cuddling and the sea waves are rocking you!

And I'm partial to getting down and dirty in fields and laybys. Got to love a good car romp!

On my bucket list is to do it in the cinema, on a train and on a bus.

Oh and I haven't joined the mile high club yet. I'm off to Ibiza soon so I'll be looking out for hotties on the plane!

Porn star prof handed Big 'n' Plenty compo

A GAY porn star, who is now a professor, has won an unfair dismissal case against a university that sacked him because it was squeamish about his previous career.

An Italian court ruled Rome's Sapienza University should not have sacked Ruggero Freddi, 46 (above), and ordered it to pay him damages.

"I was forced to sue. And I won," he said.

When working in adult entertainment, Freddi was known as Carlo Masi.

He was employed by Colt, one of the most prolific US gay porn studios, and starred in classics such as Big 'n' Plenty and Man Country.

Freddi retired from porn in 2009, aged 34, and returned to Italy where he earned a bachelor of science degree and a master's in maths, and became a professor at the faculty of engineering at Sapienza in 2017.

He took on a teaching position before he was then let go with no explanation and without adequate pay for the work he'd completed.

Youngsters say push for equality impacting men

SOPPY millennials who are too pathetic to get a shag have turned AGAINST women's rights.

New research by Ipsos UK and the Global Institute for Women's Leadership at King's College London found that more than half of people in younger generations believe the push for equality is now negatively impacting men, and that they are being expected to do "too much" to support progress.

The survey collated the responses from more than 22,500 people aged 16-74 in 32 countries.

And the results showed 52% of Gen Z and 53% of millennials think "we've gone so far in promoting women's equality that we are discriminating against men".

This is compared to 46% of Gen X and 40% of baby boomers.

And his run is being supported by his former Boy castmate-turned-porn star Maitland Ward.

Maitland, 46, who recently shot her first DOUBLE PENTRATION scene and who has made a host of X-rated movies since turning to porn, reckons Ben would be great in the US version of Parliament.

Maitland said: "Ben Savage could do a lot for society. I know he's been interested in politics for a very long time. I honestly think that he wants to better the community."

"Together, we can do better. I am a proud Californian, union member and longtime resident of District 30 who comes from a family of unwavering service to our country and community," Savage wrote to his 1.1 million followers on Instagram.

"I firmly believe in standing up for what is right, ensuring equality and expanding opportunities for all."

"I'm running for Congress because it's time to restore faith in government by offering reasonable, innovative and compassionate solutions to our country's most pressing issues," he continued.

"And it's time for new and passionate leaders who can really help move our country forward."

"Leaders who want to see the government operating at maximum capacity, unhindered by political divisions and special interests."

GLAMOUR fans will love kinky Ashleigh Gee – because it's her ultimate fantasy to get up to some girl-on-girl fun in the bedroom!

The brunette babe revealed she is so explosive between the sheets that she has often "intimidated" the lucky men in her life.

But the stunna said another red-hot lady wouldn't be so shy with her.

The 34DD lovely, from Chelmsford, Essex, said: "I've been kissed by girl pals in the past – just for a bit of a laugh really.

"But I've often wondered what it would be like to take things further.

"I'll bet a girl is brilliant at oral sex – it makes me a bit horny just thinking about it!"

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Milk of human greatness

HERO TO ZERO:
Milkman (above)
and (below) and
Oscar winner

LAST week, when railway staff and bus drivers and teachers and posties screamed: "DAY OFF!" when a mild smattering of snow landed, a milkman got up as usual at 3.30am.

He splashed his tired face with water, downed a mug of hot tea, pulled on his warmest jumpers and his uniform tunic, dunked on a snug hat, and then headed out into the "blizzard" that the BBC presenters were banging on about, on the hour every hour, from the comfort of cosy television and radio studios.

Doing "the milk" is not a very warm job.

For starters, you're delivering ice cold glass bottles of milk from cart to door in what to many of us is still the middle of the night.

Which, when they have done the amount of deliveries they do, five or six days-a-week, gloves on or not, is like keeping your fingers firmly thrust into a freezer for hours on end.

Plus, they have to sort through all the extras customers now demand or expect these days – the juice, loaves, eggs and bacon etc.

Buzzing

And they must do all of this at approximately 10-16 miles an hour, which is about as useful as standing still, with wind and rain hurtling through the open-sided cabin, on a weird buzzing machine that wouldn't look out of place next to supermarket trolleys.

Because of those supermarkets, and the way they ruthlessly rip off dairy farmers while always insisting otherwise, the milkman has the added delight of wondering if every working day will be his last.

The threat of redundancy hangs over their heads every morning.

As very much a man of "the milk", job insecurity looms over his head like the snow clouds those excitable Beep people were droning on about.

And despite these hard-toiling individuals doing what many would never even consider, never mind outright refusing to do, there is something we never hear about...

There are, to the best of my knowledge, no heavily-promoted

"Milkman of the Year" awards.

However, there are some...

According to the Dairy Industries website, a milkie called Sean Garvey, from Yorkshire, was handed the title after an exceptional year of service which included rescuing a 92-year-old customer from his gas-filled kitchen.

But we never hear these stories and mainly for one thing – there is nothing whatsoever celeb about them.

It's just what happens.

Unless we do the supermarket thing, we wake up in the morning and – ta da! – the milk is on your doorstep.

Pay him on Friday night. Cash. No cards required.

Yet then we switch the scene to Los Angeles on Sunday evening, when the world's "greatest" screen actors gather to pretend to lick each other's arses while secretly boiling in envy when they don't win an Oscar.

It doesn't matter that they have been dressed up by some bizarre fashion designer in a frock that costs the same as a reasonably-sized Caribbean island.

Or draped in jewellery with more diamonds than a royal crown.

Or handed a sack of goodies on arrival with the latest iPhone, gold doubloons, actual unicorn eggs and a Ticket to Ride.

All of them fluffing around like the ludicrous poodles at Crufts on the same night.

Pretending to glide like swans and "accidentally" having a "wardrobe incident" for the cameras.

Meanwhile, the milkman can't stay up to watch the "ceremony" – which is just a fking school sports day for supposedly grown adults – because he's got a proper, real job to do in just a few hours' time.

And he will never, ever be given an award for it – never mind a free iPhone.

Internet sex blogger, Mary. J. says: "What I like about www.myloveshop.co.uk is they understand that women don't want those old-fashioned sex toys anymore. People need to understand the sex toy market has changed. Gone are the days of hard plastic dildos and rubbish pills and potions. Due to advances in modern technology, the new design of sex toys are guaranteed to give deep, long-lasting pleasure for men and women. I really like the way www.myloveshop.co.uk understands what women want. They've only gone for the big brands and kept the prices really low. They want beautifully-designed, high-powered vibrators, state of the art anal beads and remote-controlled strap-ons. And when it comes to bondage, they've all seen 50 Shades of Grey and expect men to have a good selection of paddles, straps, whips and restraints."

Mary. J went on to add the modern woman also expects their lovers to take care of themselves.

She said: "Limps dicks and cumming to quickly are no longer tolerated. This is something that really bugs me and my girlfriends. Men need to get themselves the right equipment to make sure they give the best sexual performance of their lives. There are so many items on www.myloveshop.co.uk to help any guys last longer, stay super-hard and there is just no excuse anymore."

With prices starting at just £1.99, and all orders made before 2pm arriving the next day, there has never been a better time to update your sex toy collection or make a first time purchase at www.myloveshop.co.uk

Spokeswoman, Joy Edwards said: "At www.myloveshop.co.uk we are proud of the huge range we have put together for men, women and couples. And because of our buying power we have managed to get the very best prices in the business. We've gone for the top brands, the latest high-tech sex aids and the best formulas for aphrodisiacs. Also, we've made sure our customer service is the best in the business, with real human beings answering the phone, same day despatch, a really good returns and replacement policy and just really friendly and helpful staff."

Dad murders sex offender with antlers!

A DAD confessed to killing a sex offender he believed had stalked his daughter – then “finished him off” with a moose antler.

Levi Axtell, 27 (above), has been charged with murder after he walked into a police station covered in blood and told cops he'd fatally beaten Lawrence Scully, 77.

The Cook County Sheriff's Office said they found Mr Scully dead inside his home in Grand Marais, near Duluth, Minnesota.

A witness called 911 after seeing someone “smash” a car into Mr Scully's drive and run into the older man's home.

The witness then heard screaming.

Scully had been convicted of molesting a girl in 1979.

He and Axtell had a long history of conflict – in 2018, Axtell had accused Scully of stalking and trying to groom his daughter at her day care by parking his van outside it, and tried to obtain an order of protection against the older man.

Magic mushroom guides graduate

AN American state has licensed a group of 35 people to help others take magic mushrooms.

The first round of state-licensed magic mushroom guides graduated after passing a six-month intensive course at Portland, Oregon.

The 35 students were authorised by state sanctioned firm InnerTrek to become licensed psilocybin service facilitators – meaning they would lead shroom ingesters through a peaceful and potentially eye-opening trip.

“Facilitator training is at the heart of the nation's first statewide psilocybin therapy and wellness programme and is core to the success of the Oregon model we're pioneering here,” said programme director Tom Eckert, who also spearheaded the ballot measure that legalised Oregon's magic mushroom programme.

BUSTY BABES' PLAN TO HELP THEIR PAL IN MMA CHARITY FIGHT...

DANNI & LEVI LOVE IT IN THE RING

SUPPORT: Danni and Levi will wear revealing tops to cheer on manager

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

MIXED Martial Arts is just about the most brutal form of fighting in the ring, topped only by Bulgarian Chainsaw Wrestling.

So when busty stunnas Danni Levy and Levi heard that their manager Ed was going to give it a go at a charity bout on April 16, they got a little worried...

Danni, 33, who has whopping 32KK busters, said: “We were so impressed that Ed was going to have a go at MMA fighting – especially as it was to raise money for a really good cause, Cancer Research.

Pushover

“But he's not a trained fighter and although he's no pushover, we had our concerns.

“The last thing we want is for our brilliant manager to get battered to bits!”

So the top-heavy Babestation beauties hatched a plan...

Levi told Midweek Sport: “Danni and I have bought ringside seats, so we can cheer on Ed and give him some moral support – but there's something else, too.

“As we have really big boobs, we'll wear revealing tops – the sort our boobs could ‘accidentally’ fall out of. “And that may well prove just the distraction for Ed's opponent that could give him the decisive edge.

“It's not cheating as such, it's just looking out for our brilliant manager!”

VIRAL: Fans have gone nuts over Ashley's interview with Hugh TV BABE: I'LL KILL HUGH!

AN awkward interview between model Ashley Graham and Brit actor Hugh Grant was one of the most talked-about Oscars moments, and now she says she wants to KILL HIM... with kindness!

“You know what, my mum has told me to kill them with kindness, so there you go,” model Ashley, 35, said.

Hugh, known for his dry sense of humour and sarcasm, gave only blunt answers when the brunette beauty asked him what he was wearing at the Academy Awards, and how he enjoyed his cameo in Glass Onion, the sequel to Knives Out.

The interview has since gone viral, drawing mixed responses over

Grant's attitude to Ashley's questions on the red carpet.

Asked after the event how she was coping with the reaction to the interview, Ashley told the website TMZ that she had “so much fun” despite the rather uncomfortable moments.

Before the awards ceremony, Hugh, 62, stopped to talk to Ashley but did not appear keen to be asked questions about the entertainment industry's biggest event of the year.

“What's your favourite thing about coming to the Oscars?” she asked.

“It's fascinating,” Hugh said after a pregnant pause.

He added: “The whole of humanity is here. It's vanity fair.”

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Sam,

I'VE been going short on sex lately, as my missus is happy just to sit in front of the telly watching crap soaps.
As a result, I've been spending more and more time in the pub with my mates and recently I pulled a bird in my local – she's 21, and I'm 38.
We had a few drinks and then she invited me back to her place. She wasted little time in getting my cock out and I soon had my seven-incher down her throat.
Just as I was about to blast off, she told me to stick it up her arse. I couldn't believe my luck and I pounded her hard and fast until we both climaxed.
Since then, however, she's been ringing my mobile and home number and my missus is starting to suspect something's up.
What can I do to stop these calls?

AF, Newcastle

Sam says...
CHANGE your numbers!

Dear Sam,

I'M a 23-year-old car mechanic and the other day a gorgeous babe came into the garage where I work.
She's 22, with long, dark hair and massive tits and after a bit of flirting she gave me her number – telling me to drop her motor off at her flat later that night.
When I got there, she was already revved up and put her hands inside my overalls.
I was soon rock-hard and flipped her over to slip my shaft up her fanny. I went from zero to 60mph in pretty quick time and I soon squirted my man muck inside her.
But she wasn't finished. She massaged my gear stick back to hardness and took it down her throat until I shot my load again.
But the next day in work, my gaffer told me he'll service the next female punter. Help!

FT, Sussex

Sam says...
LOOKS like your sex drive has crashed!!

Bondage games brought lot of pain and little gain

Dear Sam,

MY hubby and I decided to try some bondage games – but they all turned out to be painful disasters.
He insisted I play a dominating role, so he bought me a black lacy basque which I wore with fishnet stockings and high heels.
I'm tall and perched on these stilettos I was a bit unstable. Add in the wine we'd drunk and it was no surprise when I toppled over, knocking the wind out of him as he lay on the bed waiting for horny action.
But we ploughed on and I tied him to the bed. He was bollock naked but his todger looked far from being ready for action.
I set to and gave what I thought were a few gentle whacks with my whip.

He was soon squealing in what I thought was ecstasy – but it turned out was agony.
By the time he'd managed to convince me of his plight, he was too sore to service me.
However, one thing did go right. I released his bonds and he tied me up instead and brought me to a series of shuddering orgasms, first with his fingers and then with his tongue.
We can laugh about it now, but should we should try any more bondage games?

HF, east Yorkshire

Sam says...
YES. But stick to what turns you on.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

I'm making up for lost sex time – with hubby's pal

Dear Sam,

ME and my husband have been married for 12 years and we seem to have hit a bit of a stale patch.

He's happy going to the pub with his mates – playing pool, watching every bloody football match that's on the TV and getting lashed – while I go out to the local clubs.

One Saturday night he'd gone for a drink and I went with my pals on our weekly knees-up.

We went to a few wine bars and by the time we got to a nightclub I was tipsy.

Ratted

I was standing at the bar when I felt a tap on my shoulder – and when I turned round it was my hubby!

He was with his best mate and they were absolutely ratted.

It seems they'd had a skinful in the pub and had jumped in a cab to town.

My fella was knocking back the whisky and I could tell that he'd soon collapse and be out for the count.

And sure enough he did – on to a table of drinks!

A couple of bouncers rushed over and carried him out as his pal staggered off behind them.

That was that, I thought, but then I saw his mate walking back towards me. He said he'd put my man in a taxi home and sneaked back into the club while the bouncers weren't looking.

So I took him to a quiet corner of the club, where it was pretty dark and no-one was around, in case the door staff saw him.

He seemed to sober up and he asked me for a dance when the DJ played some slow numbers.

As we danced closer and closer to each other he began to feel my arse and I didn't object – it was nice to get some male attention to be honest.

In fact, I decided to flirt back with him and ended up grabbing his stiffening manhood through his trousers.

We were both horny as hell, so we went back to his place where we stripped off and pounced on each other straight away.

He had a really nice, toned body – much better than my drunkard hubby.

And I gasped as he thrust his massive cock into my aching pussy.

That was the beginning of a sizzling sex session that lasted until dawn.

We even licked and sucked on each other in the 69 position – something I'd never tried before.

Then it was time to go back to my boring old husband.

But I've been seeing his mate for more sizzling sex sessions.

Am I a bit of a slag?

JR, Manchester

Sam says...

IF your fella wants to act like a prick, then keep on treating him like one.

I seized chance to play while wife was away

Dear Sam,

SINCE my wife had our first baby we've hardly had sex. She says that she's just not interested at the moment and I've tried to remain faithful to her.

But last month her best mate paid us a visit. We were alone as the missus had gone to stay with her mum for a few days – a fact I'm sure her mate was fully aware of – so I thought I'd try it on.

She was well up for it and before long we were in bed. She's got a great a body and massive tits and I couldn't wait to get my tongue around her stiff nipples.

After a bit of probing and teasing, she begged me to fk her. I have to say it was a real turn-on seeing my cock slide in and out of her wet pussy as I took her from behind until we both had an energetic climax.

Sticky

She then asked me to do her up the bum – something my wife has never let me do with her.

I was in heaven as I felt her sphincter relax and I pushed slowly in and out.

Later on she gave me blowjob and let me shoot my sticky wad all over her tits.

I try and see her as often as I can and the sex gets better every time.

She likes to do it in sexy lingerie and life with my wife is so boring I'm considering leaving her.

Her mate said she'll finish with her boyfriend and that I can move in with her.

What do you think?

PY, Dorset

Sam says...

IT'S your call.

Dear Sam,

MY girlfriend left her Facebook account logged in and out of curiosity I saw some private messages to some of her mates.

At first I was pretty smug, because she was saying lots of nice things about me, especially how good I was in the sex department.

But then I broke out into a cold sweat when I saw some messages saying how she thinks I am going to propose to her soon.

She says she can't wait to marry me and have my babies.

I was shocked beyond belief – we've only been together for a year and I'm in no way thinking about proposing any time soon!

I ended up going out with the lads down the pub and getting slaughtered to the point where I took the barmaid back to hers in a taxi and slept with her.

The next morning I regretted everything and can't believe I'd been so stupid.

To make matters even worse, the barmaid told everyone about our romp and it won't be long before my other half finds out.

Please help!

LG, Derbyshire

Sam says...

IT'S your own fault – you should never read someone else's messages, you snoop.

The Bedford-born brunette said only a sex marathon can satisfy her high nookie drive.

Ella, who has perky 30E boobs, explained she feels frustrated if she doesn't get a lengthy seeing-to.

She said: "Probably the most I've ever had sex was when I was seeing a guy and we ended up bonking five times one afternoon."

"We had a few glasses of wine and were feeling horny, so we just stayed in bed all day drinking more wine and bonking endlessly."

"On average, I probably feel horny around three times a day. I am always horny in the morning and if I'm not satisfied I'll spend all day desperate for a shag."

WILTSHIRE

HORNY Danielle Wiltshire has a secret lust for BONDAGE in the bedroom. The stunna says it really turns her on when her lover takes charge. Danielle, who boasts all-natural 32D boobs, prefers kinky sex to romance and says staring into each other's eyes and making slow love is just a bit boring to her. The scorcher, of Stratford, east London, said: "Kinky sex is always better. "I like a man to start off romantically, by kissing my neck and seducing me, but then I need to have some REAL passion! "I quite like a bit of bondage - being tied up and blindfolded. "I think role play would be fun too, but so far I've never tried it. Does anyone fancy helping me out?"

WHERE REAL BABES SNAP THEMSELVES!

THIS is it...the only newspaper feature where REAL BABES show their boobs!

Self-shooting topless pics is a craze that's sweeping the country – but you don't need a swanky new smartphone to enjoy 'em – as we'll be printing the pick of the snaps EVERY week!

SEND US YOUR SELF-SHOTS!

JOANNE LATHAM

RETIRED builder Jordan Hollins is keen to see all-time favourite model Joanna Latham.

Southend geezer Jordan, 68, loves her amazing 38DD chest and dreams of getting his hands on the Wolverhampton babe's sweater-stretchers himself.

He said: "She's so fit, a gorgeous face, stunning body and lovely knockers. I dreamt of getting a girl!"

Joanne wowed her fans for years with her topless shoots – and we're sure Jordan will be more than happy with this photo.

FERN HOSH

BRIGHTON resident Fern is the seaside resort's top attraction, says newsagent Bill Simpson.

The 56-year-old, from Leyland, Lancashire, has never been to Brighton – but if he did, there's only one sight he'd want to see.

Bill is a huge fan of Fern's 30D pair and said: "I've heard Brighton's got a pier and a pavilion with some fancy stuff on it, but that's nowt compared to Fern."

"I'll have a stiff pier myself once I've clapped eyes on her norks – they really are something else."

SIAN ADEY JONES

HANDYMAN
Kelvin Summers has plenty of tools in his kit but there's only one tool he'd like to use on glamour legend Sian Adey Jones.

The 49-year-old does odd jobs for people around his home town of Birkenhead – but it's Welsh beauty Sian who really gets his gears going.

Kelvin said: "She's always been a hottie and every time she was in the paper I spend ages ogling her 36D bare boobs – she's got a real handful."

"I'd introduce her to my very own screwdriver and see if she fancies a play with that!"

TOP TIPS FOR THE CHELTENHAM FESTIVAL

GERRI COLOMBE

Star Gerri to lead merry way home

GERRI COLOMBE can maintain his unbeaten record in the Brown Advisory Novices' Chase at Cheltenham.

The Gordon Elliott-trained seven-year-old has cruised through from the point-to-point field to bumpers, hurdles and the novice chase division, all without suffering a loss in eight starts.

Over fences he is already a dual Grade One winner, taking the Faughengee Novice Chase at Limerick by four and a quarter lengths before landing the Scilly Isles at Sandown in February.

Strike

At Cheltenham he will step up to three miles, a trip over which he won a point-to-point, and he is likely to encounter the soft ground that he has shown he can cope with before.

The pointers provided by his pedigree are also positive, with Saddler Maker producing a host of soft-ground loving stayers such as Bristol De Mai, Discorama and Alpha Des Obeaux.

Barry Connell's Good Land can strike in the Ballymore Novices' Hurdle.

The seven-year-old has had a near-flawless season, the only defeat being a first-fence unseat on his debut run over hurdles at Fairyhouse in December.

WEDNESDAY'S TIPS

After that he was an eight-length winner of a Leopardstown maiden and then a Grade One victor in the Nathaniel Lacy at the same track in February.

His first Leopardstown victory saw him beat subsequent runaway Thurles novice winner Embassy Gardens, and he is another proven to have handled soft ground and a longer trip with both ease and professionalism.

Edwardstone is fancied to return to winning ways in the Betway Queen Mother Champion Chase for Alan King after losing out to Editeur Gu Gite on his last start and unseating the time before.

Last season's Arkle hero, he was an easy Tingle Creek winner when starting his campaign but departed early in the Desert Orchid Chase at Christmas and was then just defeated in the Clarence House the following month.

That latter loss was by just a head, however, and now Editeur Du Gite's front-running ways are slightly more familiar, it is likely that Edwardstone will be ridden to suit and he can claim another Festival success.

Galvin looks like being another Elliott-trained winner of the Glenfarclas Chase over the cross-country course. Not far off Gold Cup standard at his best, he has stalemate Delta Work to beat.

Paul Nolan has not always been blessed with the rub of the green at this meeting, so with that in mind HMS Seahorse would be a deserved winner of the Coral Cup.

And if the market vibes of recent days are anything to go by, he has every chance, with course experience from his close fourth in the Fred Winter last year a positive.

The Mullins family have a close association with the Champion Bumper and Fun Fun Fun is salient as she was bred by Patrick, son of master trainer Willie.

A 10-length winner of her maiden bumper run, the five-year-old then went on to win again when taking a Grade Two mares' event at Leopardstown in February.

She is taken to beat the boys at Prestbury Park.

SHARK WANTS IT TO STAY DRY

JOHN 'Shark' Hanlon says Hewick is "better than he ever was" – but will make a last-minute decision on whether or not the American Grand National winner will run in the Boodles Cheltenham Gold Cup on Friday.

The eight-year-old shot to prominence when landing the bet365 Gold Cup at Sandown in April last year and followed up winning the valuable Galway Plate.

He then looked poised to add the Kerry National at Listowel to his CV, only to unseat Jordan Gainford at the last. But he earned compensation when taking the American Grand National at Far Hills, Maryland.

He has not run since that success in October and after his final piece of work on the sands at Woodstown Beach in Waterford on Sunday morning, Hanlon was more than satisfied with his preparation.

However, while he is not cowering at the prospect of taking on the likes of Irish Gold Cup winner Galopin Des Champs, last year's victor A Plus Tard and King George hero Bravemansgame in the blue riband, he is concerned about the potential for soft ground this week.

"We're just coming off the beach and he is in great old form," said Hanlon. "We just have to keep him fresh now."

"The ground is the only thing. That's the only thing I'm afraid of."

By MIKE FRANCIS

I'm hoping you won't get a lot more rain over there.

"He is a much better horse on good ground and he'd handle good ground where other horses wouldn't."

Hewick is also entered for the Randox Grand National at Aintree on April 15, where he is due to shoulder joint-top weight of 11st 12lb along with last year's runner-up Any Second Now and dual Grade One winner Conflated.

Hewick is a 20-1 for the Gold Cup and 25-1 for the National, and the Bagenalstown handler says he would not mind which race Hewick won, though his chance would improve with a sounder surface than is forecast.

Weight

"You don't want to leave his race at Cheltenham with the National four weeks away," added Hanlon.

"We have to think of everything. But we are bringing him over on Wednesday morning and we'll make a decision on the morning (of the Gold Cup)."

"He's in great form and I think he is better than he ever was. Everything went well with his preparation."

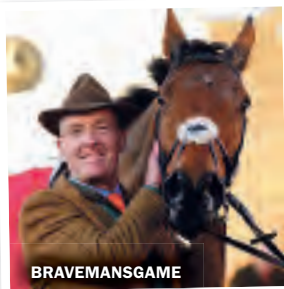

"Any of the two races will do us now. The National is something you dream of all your life, but a Gold Cup would be very special, so if we could be placed in it, we'd be very happy."

"The Gold Cup is the purists' race, while the National is the people's race – and he's the people's horse."

"He has a lot of weight for the National, but he's carried a heavy weight everywhere he went before and he managed it, so I'm not over-worried by it."

BRAVEMANSGAME

UNHAPPY: Ben White

White:
We were all shite!

SIX NATIONS RUGGER

BEN White admits Scotland "fell short" when it mattered as he rued their lack of ruthlessness in key moments of their Six Nations campaign.

After kicking off with back-to-back wins over England and Wales, Scotland's hopes were dashed by subsequent defeats against the world's top two sides as they lost 32-21 away to France a fortnight ago and then 22-7 at home to Ireland on Sunday.

Gregor Townsend's men competed well for large chunks of both matches but scrum-half White admits they need to become more clinical.

"It's tough to take any positives because we back ourselves to win and we fell short," he said. "Ireland were very good, they were accurate when they needed to be."

"Against the top sides, you'll get three or four chances and you have to take them all to win."

"Against Ireland we created three or four chances and we took one, and ultimately that cost us in the end. They took their chances and we didn't."

"Our accuracy in the final third wasn't good enough and that's something we're going to have to work on going into the Italy game."

"We were in that game until about 55-60 minutes and then they turned the screw on us, which is disappointing."

Scotland hooker Fraser Brown, who came on for the closing quarter on Sunday, felt Ireland showed their resilience in how they dealt with the challenge of losing their two hookers, Dan Sheehan and Ronan Kelleher, to injury within 50 minutes.

"Ireland adapted very well to losing two hookers in the game," he said. "It takes something special for a side to be able to adapt their game that well and come out with a win."

"The fact they extended their lead after both their hookers went off, they controlled that situation well. I'm disappointed we didn't put more pressure on them though, particularly at set-pieces."

"We played really well in parts against France in Paris and did well to work our way back into the game and again against Ireland we played well in the first half and put them under a lot of pressure."

"We know the quality we have within our squad and how well we can play."

SLAMMER: Sexton

JOHNNY DREAMS OF SLAM

JOHNNY Sexton says it "would be the stuff of dreams" to captain Ireland to Grand Slam glory.

The world's top-ranked side are on the brink of completing a Guinness Six Nations clean sweep going into next weekend's Dublin showdown with England following Sunday's chaotic 22-7 success in Scotland.

Influential fly-half Sexton has won the tournament three times during his career, including a Grand Slam in 2018, but is yet to do so since being appointed skipper after the 2019 World Cup.

The 37-year-old is relishing a rare opportunity to become champions in front of an

MORE SIX NATIONS RUGGER

Irish crowd at the Aviva Stadium, having clinched his previous titles away from home.

"It was a very special day against Scotland but a semi-final and the big one is next week," he said.

"It would be the stuff of dreams really. It's what you grow up wanting to do."

"I don't know why you grow up wanting to be captain of Ireland, maybe because the players you admire the most were captains, but to do it would be dream-come-true stuff."

"It's a great group of lads, so to lead them is very special. Who wouldn't be proud?"

"It's going to be a big week, there will be lots of hype, plenty of distractions, tickets and family and all that and we need to get down to business and get a big performance."

England were booted out of contention by Saturday's 53-10 Twickenham defeat to France.

Fabien Galthie's champs, who were defeated 32-19 by Ireland in round two and finish the competition at home to Wales, are now the only team with a chance of pipping Andy Farrell's men to the title.

Sexton insists dispatching

Steve Borthwick's wounded side will be far from easy.

"It's obviously dangerous because they've nothing to play for but it will mean a hell of a lot to us to play at home and to try and win something at home," he said.

"The times when we have won things, they've all been away. That's something we acknowledged from the start that doesn't come around too often, so it will hopefully be a special day."

"They're hurting. They're going to be wanting to show what playing for England means to them and they're a good team, they're a better team than they showed against France."

Lineker back on the telly at Etihad

ENGLAND LEGEND TO FRONT CITY v BURNLEY FA CUP TIE

GARY LINEKER'S first job back on the BBC will be to present live coverage of the FA Cup quarter-final between Manchester City and Burnley on Saturday.

The corporation confirmed Lineker's reinstatement to Match of the Day on Monday morning after the former England striker was told to step back from hosting the show on Friday in a row over impartiality.

Lineker had been due to present the City v Burnley tie on Saturday evening prior to Friday, and a BBC Sport spokesperson confirmed Lineker would front the coverage as originally planned.

Mark Chapman is due to host the Match of the Day highlights show later on Saturday night, the BBC said.

The wider presenting line-up is yet to be confirmed, with many of Lineker's BBC Sport colleagues walking out in "solidarity" at the weekend.

The Match of the Day highlights shows on Saturday and Sunday were significantly shorter than usual, and were aired without presentation or commentary.

Lineker was taken off air for a tweet comparing the language used to launch a new Government asylum seeker policy with 1930s Germany.

BBC director-general Tim Davie said in a statement the corporation would now commission an independent review of its social media guidelines, particularly for freelancers.

Minutes after the official BBC statement was published, Lineker tweeted: "After a surreal few days, I'm delighted that we have navigated a way through this."

"I want to thank you all for the incredible support, particularly my colleagues at BBC Sport, for the remarkable show of solidarity. Football is a team game but their backing was overwhelming."

"I have been presenting sport on the BBC for almost three decades and am immeasurably proud to work with the best and fairest broadcaster in the world. I cannot wait to get back in the MOTD chair on Saturday."

"A final thought: however difficult the last few days have been, it simply doesn't compare to having to flee your home from persecution or war to seek refuge in a land far away. It's heartwarming to have seen the empathy towards their plight from so many of you."

"We remain a country of predominantly tolerant, welcoming and generous people. Thank you."

Football coverage on BBC TV and radio shows was hit across the weekend as pundits, presenters and reporters – including Alan Shearer, Ian Wright and Alex Scott – stood down.

Match of the Day aired for only 20 minutes on Saturday without accompanying commentary or analysis from presenters, with Sunday's edition following a similar format and running for a reduced 15 minutes.

Audiences

The Women's Super League match between Chelsea and Manchester United aired without a pre-match presentation on Sunday, and Radio 5 Live replaced much of its usual live sports coverage over the weekend with pre-recorded content.

Davie apologised for what he acknowledged had been "a difficult period for staff, contributors, presenters and, most importantly, our audiences".

He added: "The potential confusion caused by the grey areas of the BBC's social media guidance that was introduced in 2020 is recognised. I want to get matters resolved and our sport back on air."

Davie described the BBC's commitment to freedom of expression and to impartiality as a "difficult balancing act".

Chapman, who did not present either 5 Live's Saturday coverage or Match of the Day 2 on Sunday, returned to their air for the Monday Night Club, and opened by apologising to listeners for the lack of service over the weekend.

"This weekend has been miserable and difficult for everyone involved and to you the listener I am sorry that we didn't bring you the usual service you would expect from us and I appreciate your patience," he said. "If you are angry then I completely get that too."

"I would like to acknowledge all those who work behind the scenes on 5 Live sport and at BBC Sport, and those staff members who were on air who were put in difficult and uncomfortable positions through absolutely no fault of their own, and they have been at the receiving end of abuse for just doing their jobs."

"It is disgusting and unfair and it is ironic that in a row over impartiality we have all been seen to be taking sides, and I feel there are lessons to be learned by all involved."

IT'S TOUGH AT THE BOTTOM!

THE Premier League relegation race is shaping into one of the biggest scrambles in memory.

Nine clubs are separated by just five points after the latest round of matches, with most having 12 left to play.

By PAUL THOMAS

Here, Midweek Sport takes a look at each of those clubs involved.

CRYSTAL PALACE - 12TH, 27 PTS

Palace have slipped to within striking distance of all their relegation rivals after failing to win a league game this year. Patrick Vieira's side have won once and collected only eight points in 12 games since the World Cup break.

WOLVES - 13TH, 27 PTS

Wolves were second-bottom when Julen Lopetegui took charge in November and four league wins lifted them clear of danger. But one win in five has left them four points above the bottom three, having played a game more than all their rivals bar Everton.

NOTTINGHAM FOREST - 14TH, 26 PTS

A five-game winless run has seen Forest slip to within two points of the bottom three and their latest defeat at Tottenham coincided with wins for Bournemouth and Everton, while Leeds and Southampton also picked up a point.

TOFFEES BOSS: Sean Dyche

EVERTON - 15TH, 25 PTS

Everton's third 1-0 home win under Sean Dyche, against Brentford on Saturday, lifted them out of the drop zone, but they face Chelsea (away), Tottenham (home) and Manchester United (away) in their next three matches.

LEICESTER - 16TH, 24 PTS

The Foxes are in freefall after losing four straight league games. They were comfortably in mid-table before the World Cup break, but have taken seven points from 11 games since – less than any other club since Boxing Day.

WEST HAM - 17TH, 24 PTS

David Moyes' struggling side edged out of the bottom three on goal difference after Saturday's home draw against Aston Villa, but were booed off at full-time again after one league win in six. They have won only two of their nine league games this year.

BOURNEMOUTH - 18TH, 24 PTS

The Cherries' 1-0 win against Liverpool was one of the shock results of the season and combined with their rivals dropping points lifted them off the foot of the table and helped throw the relegation battle wide open.

LEEDS - 19TH, 23 PTS

Leeds clinched a vital point in Saturday's draw against Brighton, but had dropped into the relegation places before kick-off after Everton's win and it was not enough to lift them out. One victory in 13 league games fairly reflects their struggles this season.

SOUTHAMPTON - 20TH, 22 PTS

An unlikely goalless draw at Manchester United kept the Saints in touch with those above them despite slipping into bottom spot. Recent wins against Chelsea and Leicester have kept their heads above water.

PEP WANTS MORE FROM KEV

PEP Guardiola has urged Kevin De Bruyne to focus on the "simple things" to get back to his best.

The Belgium playmaker has not been at his most dynamic as Manchester City have struggled to match the high levels of consistency they have produced in recent years.

It remains relative, with the inspirational De Bruyne still having registered 17 assists in 34 appearances in a side chasing three trophies this term – three more assists than he managed in 45 games last season.

Yet with Guardiola having started him on the bench for three of the last seven Premier

By WES DERBY

League games, the manager clearly feels the levels of one of his big-name stars have fallen.

Guardiola said: "It's been a difficult season, I would say, for all of us, me included, (because of) the World Cup and many things.

"I'm not going to discover Kevin.

"Kevin has an ability to do it. What I'd like – I spoke many times to him – is to go to the easy principles and do it well.

"He has an incredible ability to make an assist, to score goals and see passes like no-one else, but I always have belief they will increase and will get better when the simple things, like don't lose the ball, the mobility, the incredible capacity to be active in the movement, to do it again better and better, the rest will come along.

"It's like Erling (Haaland). I don't want him to just score goals and the rest I don't care about.

"He will score and he will be involved in other parts of the game.

"With Kevin it's the same. When the simple things are done perfectly and we are in the right moment, the actions to create incredible passes that he – only he – can find, it will be easier, it will be better."

De Bruyne insisted he would always strive to hit the highest standards and had no thoughts about whether he might have to adapt his game, or even play in a different position, in the future.

The 31-year-old said: "I'm a perfectionist. Whatever I do in football or life, I will always want it to be 100 per cent.

"In that regard, if the time would come, that is something I would think about but it's not necessarily now.

"If I think about it at this particular time I would like to stay as high as possible, for as long as possible, but that isn't only my decision."

BACK IN FORM: Isak

Isak happy to be talk of the Toon

RECORD buy Alexander Isak is relishing the task of getting to grips with Newcastle's all-action style after helping to reignite their charge for a top-four finish.

The £60million striker opened the scoring in Sunday's 2-1 win over Wolves at St James' Park having replaced Callum Wilson, who had missed training through illness during the week.

His inclusion came days after head coach Eddie Howe admitted he was not yet ready to play 90 minutes after a lengthy lay-off with a thigh injury.

Isak, 23, said: "I played almost 70 minutes, emptied myself and sometimes that's enough. Then you've got fresh legs and fresh players to come in and make an impact like they did. It's something we have in this team which is really important for us."

"I feel confident and I think I can get fitter, but I feel fit and I feel good when I'm out there and I'm not having any troubles. But I'll just keep on working."

"The intensity is tough, but I enjoy it. I enjoy it way more like this, intense and everything goes quickly and this type of football where you have more actions for yourself as well."

"It's hard work and it's tough, but I really enjoy it." Isak headed the home side into a 26th-minute lead from Kieran Trippier's free-kick minutes.

He said: "I enjoyed being back on the scoresheet in front of our fans, it was a great feeling."

"I'm not very used to scoring headers. It's an area I can improve, so that was a good one."

The Magpies, who had won only one of their previous eight league games to slip from third place in the table to sixth before kick-off, might have killed the game off before half-time, but didn't and were made to pay when Hwang Hee-chan came off the Wolves bench to level.

However, fellow substitute Miguel Almiron matched his feat and his 11th goal of the season clinched a victory which eased Howe's men back above Liverpool into fifth with a game in hand and to within four points of fourth-place Tottenham, who have played two more.

Isak said: "We've played well, but as everyone knows that ball hasn't wanted to be in the back of the net, so we showed great character."

Varane: Our midfielders need to step up

RAPHAEL Varane says Manchester United will need to find a way of bringing balance to the team as key midfielder Casemiro serves a four-match domestic ban.

By PAUL THOMAS

Just five weeks after his contentious sending off against Crystal Palace, the 31-year-old looked crestfallen when shown his second red card in just three Premier League appearances.

Initially booked for a challenge that ended up with his boot on Southampton midfielder Carlos Alcaraz's shin, it was upgraded to red after the VAR recommended Anthony Taylor reviewed the decision.

Erik ten Hag raged about inconsistent officiating after the hard-fought 0-0 draw, with Casemiro now ruled out for Sunday's FA Cup quarter-final against Fulham and United's next three league games.

"He's a player who's very important for us," said United defender Varane, who knows the Brazil international better than anyone after their time together at Real Madrid.

"He brings balance to the team and to the squad, but we have a great squad and we have to find another balance without him."

"But we have good players in every position on the pitch and we're ready for the next games."

"I think he was very disappointed because nobody wants to get out of the pitch before the end but as I say it's part of football. It was obviously very disappointing but we can focus on the next games and that's it."

Asked for his opinion on Casemiro's sending off, the former France defender said: "I think about decisions by the referee I keep my opinions to myself."

"We can't be happy with the decision he takes but that's part of football."

United said on Monday they would not appeal against Casemiro's red card, saying "the club decided there was not a high chance of being able to overturn the ban on appeal."

Varane's frustration at the circumstances and result on Sunday was palpable, as was his pride in the way the group fought together just a week on from the 7-0 loss at Liverpool.

"I think it's frustrating," he said of theresult. "Happy with the mentality, the fighting spirit."

"The team fought as a group and that's the positive point for today."

"We knew we needed to run a little bit more, to be a bit more defensive but we reacted as a team, as a group and with a good mentality."

"We fight for each other. The crowd as well. We feel the support. I think we can be proud of the fighting spirit, obviously disappointed by the result but great teamwork today."

Confidence

Sunday's match was the Red Devils' last Premier League action this month as attention turns to cup competitions before the international break.

United face Real Betis on Thursday boasting a 4-1 advantage from the first leg of their Europa League last-16 tie, before Fulham arrive at Old Trafford for Sunday's FA Cup quarter-final.

"I think if you take (away) the game against Liverpool, we were in a good moment and good results so we have to keep the confidence," Varane said.

"Obviously we want a good result to keep the rhythm. I think the winning mentality is here in this group. We want to win every game so we have to fight and be ready for Thursday."

Ten Hag will surely be tempted to rotate in Spain given their three-goal cushion, although it is unclear whether Alejandro Garnacho will be available.

The 18-year-old left Old Trafford on crutches with his right foot in a protective boot following a challenge by Kyle Walker-Peters, although his manager downplayed concerns over the exciting Argentinian.

"I think they have great talent, you saw it today," Varane said of Garnacho and fellow youngster Facundo Pellistri.

"They can bring speed on the pitch, they can create opportunities, create danger."

"We need these kind of players to make the difference and change games."

How have United fared with and without him this season?

CASEMIRO'S CARD COUNT

After no bookings in his first nine United appearances and only three in his first 24, Casemiro's last 13 games have brought six yellow cards and two straight reds.

He was booked in January's back-to-back league games against Manchester City and Crystal Palace, then in February's Carabao Cup semi-final second leg against Nottingham Forest and final against Newcastle and both Europa League matches against Barcelona.

His dismissal in the return fixture with Palace came in the middle of that sequence last month before another followed on Sunday.

They were the first straight red cards in Casemiro's 600-plus senior games.

Though he received second yellow cards twice for Real – against Barca in 2021 and Real Valladolid in 2019, meaning he already has as many dismissals for United as in nine years at Real – and for Sao Paulo against Mogi Mirim in 2012.

He has been booked 144 times in his club career – 92 for Real, 27 for Sao Paulo, 16 in a season on loan at Porto and nine for United – with another 21 for Brazil.

WHAT WILL UNITED MISS?

As would logically be expected from those figures, Casemiro's primary impact is on the defensive side of Manchester United's game. They have conceded barely a goal a game in the Premier League with him in the starting line-up, 16 in 15 games for an average of 1.07.

That jumps to 19 in 11 games, 1.72 per game, when he has not been named in the XI – which includes games when he has come on as a substitute. In all they have allowed 15 goals with him on the field and 20 without.

Assists

The number of shots taken against them reflects that split, averaging 10.2 per game when Casemiro starts and 16.2 without him.

United's win rate and points per game both increase slightly with Casemiro in the fold, 60 per cent and 2.07 per game compared to 54.5 per cent and 1.73 in the games without him starting.

They also take fractionally more shots per game but score fewer goals – 21 in his 15 starts, an average of 1.4, but 20 in 11 or 1.8 per game when he does not start.

Casemiro himself has two league goals and three assists to his name, also scoring twice in the FA Cup win over Reading and once in the League Cup final.

It is worthy of note that United took seven points from their three league games during his previous ban, against Leeds twice and then Leicester, before he returned for the 7-0 defeat to Liverpool and left his side short-handed against the Saints.

He will miss games against Fulham in the FA Cup and Newcastle, Brentford and Everton in the league. Casemiro has featured in wins over the Toffees – 2-1 in the league and 3-1 in the FA Cup – and Fulham and a draw with Newcastle, while the 4-0 hammering by the Bees came before he had signed.

GUNN READY TO FOR FOR SCOTS

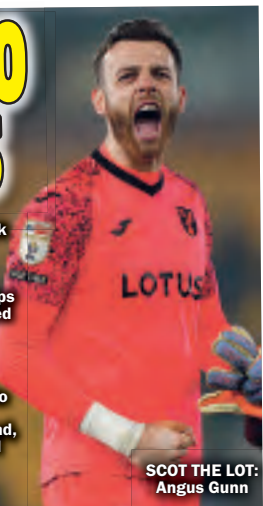

NORWICH goalkeeper Angus Gunn is hoping to kick off his Scotland career in the Euro qualifiers after successful talks with manager Steve Clarke convinced him to switch allegiance from England.

The 27-year-old – whose father Bryan won six caps for Scotland – is eligible for both nations and played for England up to under-21 level.

However, he has never been capped at full international level, so can face Cyprus and Spain later this month.

"I had a meeting with the manager, I've spoken to him a few times and I've decided to change allegiances," said Gunn. "I'm available for the squad, I don't think they've announced it yet so hopefully I can get into it, it's exciting times for me."

"My dad is happy as well because he's a big Scotsman!"

CITY CHIL OUT

Guardiola eyes up summer swoop for Chelsea left-back

By JOHN ANTHONY

MANCHESTER City are lining up a summer move for Chelsea left-back Ben Chilwell.

Stamford Bridge insiders insist the England defender is heading for the exit at the end of this season.

The 26-year-old was linked with the champions before he signed for the Blues for £50m in 2020.

He has two years left on his contract and has played 76 times for Chelsea since making the switch.

It's not like he has dropped down the pecking order at the club.

But the Londoners have spent £500m on players since new owner Todd Boehly took over and they are worried about financial fair play rules.

That makes Chilwell an asset as

ON HUNT: Guardiola

Chelsea know they can get the full fee they paid Leicester from City.

And boss Graham Potter has other options in the left-back position with Marc Cucurella looking for more first-team game time.

City are in need of a left-back with Joao Cancelo having left the club. Guardiola also let Aleksandr Zinchenko sign for Arsenal at the end of last season.

Nathan Ake has been playing on the left side of defence but the Spaniard wants a more natural attacking full-back for the position.

The only concern is Chilwell's injury record. He has only recently returned from a long-term knee injury and City may try to haggle the fee down with that in mind.

But something close to £50m should get the deal done this summer with Chilwell likely to want the move.
